

Gleb Chanyshchev-Gladkov was born in 1997 in the Russian Federation. He studied violin with Eduard Grach, Galina Turchaninova, Oxana Tikhonova, Sergey Pospelov and graduated from the Gnessin State Musical College in 2017. Currently he is studying at the Royal Conservatory of Mons (Belgium) in the class of Anton Martynov and Kremena Nikolova. Gleb is a laureate of numerous international competitions, including the Mozart Competition in Vienna (2013), Krasnodar Competition (2014) and Turchaninova Competition (2017). He performed at some of the most prestigious venues in his homeland - The Grand Hall of the Moscow Conservatory (as a soloist of the Chamber Orchestra "Moskovia" under the baton of Eduard Grach) The Moscow International Performing Arts Centre and the Tchaikovsky Concert Hall. A versatile and imaginative young artist, he participated in projects of the popularization of 20th century Russian music, performing works by Mieczysław Weinberg, Valery Gavrilin, Nikolay Peyko, Boris Tchaikovsky and Yury Abdokov

Gleb Chanshev-Gladkov est né en Russie en 1997.

Il étudie le violon avec Eduard Grach, Galina Turchaninova, Oxana Tikhonova, Sergey Pospelov. Il est diplômé du Gnessin State Musical College in 2017. Actuellement, il étudie au Conservatoire Royal de Mons dans la classe d'Anton Martynov et Kremena Nikolova.

Gleb est lauréat de nombreux concours internationaux dont the Mozart Competition à Vienne (2013), Krasnodar Competition (2014) et Turchaninova Competition (2017).

Il s'est produit dans les salles les plus prestigieuses de son pays natal telles que le Grand Hall du Conservatoire de Moscou (en tant que soliste de l'Orchestre de chambre "Moskovia" sous la baguette d'Eduard Grach), la Maison internationale de la musique de Moscou et la salle de concert Tchaikovsky.

Jeune artiste polyvalent et imaginatif, il a participé aux projets de la vulgarisation de la musique russe du XXe siècle en interprétant des œuvres de Mieczysław, Weinberg, Valery Gavrilin, Nikolay Peyko, Boris Tchaikovsky et Yury Abdokov